Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 16 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry at first, before turning wetter over the weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
A mild and mostly dry night, with variable cloud allowing for the occasional clear spell. However, low cloud in the north, especially over the Lake District, may bring some light rain. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Friday:
Possible light rain over the Lake District during early morning, but an otherwise dry and warm day with sunny or bright spells throughout. Cloud thickens overnight, bringing patchy rain later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rather cloudy with showers over the weekend, heavy on Sunday, though the odd sunny spell still possible. Similar on Monday, though any showers generally lighter and less frequent in nature.
